

African Advanced Level Telecommunications Training Institute (AFRALTI) is an inter-governmental organization established in 1993, headquartered in Nairobi, Kenya, and serves the information and communication technology (ICT) sector in Africa. AFRALTI's key mandate is providing human resources capacity building through high-level quality training, consultancy and advisory services to both management and technical personnel in ICT.

Member states to AFRALTI are among others Zambia, Tanzania, Mozambique, Kenya, Uganda, Malawi, Swaziland, and Zimbabwe. Zambia being a paid-up member of AFRALTI through ZICTA, a number of personnel in the ICT sector in the country are currently undertaking various Masters Programs at a subsidized rate through the institute.

(AFRALTI) also offers a wide range of workshops and courses in the area of Digital Technology & Management Information Systems, Telecommunication Engineering and Management with a team of highly experienced facilitators who hold qualifications and relevant industry certification, providing unrivaled training solutions in the region.

- Online Master of Communications And Management (eMCM)

AFRALTI in collaboration with United Kingdom Telecommunications Academy (UKTA) and University of Rwanda (UR) is now offering Online Master of Communications Management (eMCM).

The Master of Communication Management (eMCM) is aimed at acquainting people in the following sectors with knowledge and skill necessary to effectively executive their mandate;

- ICT Regulators,
- Telecom Operators,
- ICT Policy Makers and
- Internet Service Providers and Broadcasters.

<http://www.afralti.org/emcm/>

- Other Areas of Expertise:

The institute offers a wide range of workshops and courses in the following areas:

- Telecommunications Policy, Management and Regulation.
- Networking.
- CISCO.
- HUAWEI
- Certified Fibre Optics Training.
- Research and Consultancy in the ICT Field.
